Ichiban means "number one" or "the best" in Japanese. Simply stated, Quantum Ichiban is number one and pays homage to the first batches of tattoo ink in Japan, which were very high in pigment concentration. When referring to colors, Ichiban might be used to describe a color that stands out, excels, or is considered the most vibrant and appealing among others. Quantum Ichiban goes back to the old school ways of tattooing in Japan. These inks are not for the fainthearted, powder pigments require a different way of tattooing but will be brighter and longer lasting than any other ink out there! It signifies a color of superior quality or beauty. Our Ichiban is number one in any language.

Quantum Tattoo Ink was founded in 2011 in North Hollywood, California. Originally established as a tattoo supply company, the brand quickly gained recognition for its inks. As demand grew, the decision was made to focus exclusively on producing high-quality tattoo ink.

Quantum is committed to providing artists with some of the best quality ink available on the market. No corners are cut—only premium ingredients available in the U.S. market are used, and no acrylic is added to any formula. Our inks are produced under the highest sterility standards. All Quantum inks are vegan, kosher, and cruelty-free, and they meet EU standards for tattoo colorants.

Quantum Tattoo Ink is made in small batches to ensure the consistency and perfection of every batch.

We at Quantum Tattoo Ink pride ourselves in the quality of our inks. We have always used the best quality ingredients, and we want to have full transparency with our customers, and their clients, about those ingredients.

Below is a breakdown of our ingredients, so you know exactly what goes into our inks.

Organic Pigment > We use natural pigments, sourced from the earth. None of our pigments ever come from animals.

Kosher Vegetable Glycerin > Kosher vegetable glycerin is a vegan, plant-based sugar alcohol. Glycerin is used to provide lubrication, and as a humectant.

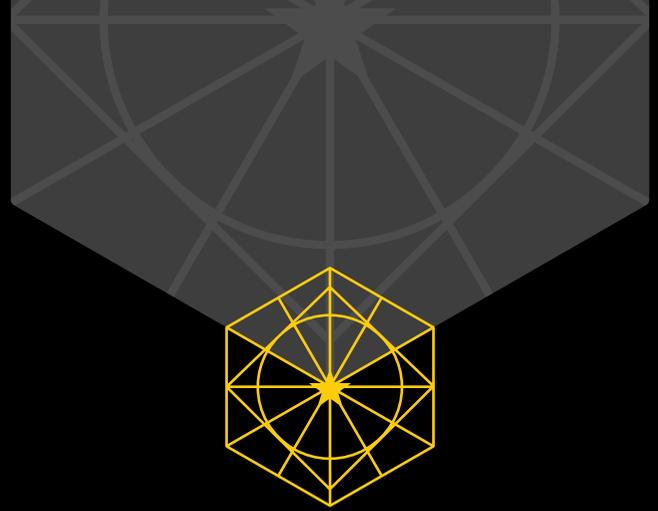

Ethyl Alcohol > Ethyl alcohol is a powerful antiseptic and disinfectant with antibacterial and antifungal properties.

Distilled Water > The distillation process removes all impurities and mineral deposits from the water.

Eucalyptus Globulus Leaf Extract > Eucalyptus leaves are a traditional Aboriginal herbal remedy, which is now used all over the world. The essential oil found in the leaves is a strong antiseptic with antibacterial, antimicrobial, and anti-inflammatory properties.

Thymol > Thymol is derived from the herb, thyme. The derivative is a strong antiseptic with antibacterial and antifungal properties.

Menthol > Menthol is derived from Mentha plants, and is used for its fragrance. Menthol has slight analgesic properties.
